

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A shaving brush employs a bristle base, brush bristles and a cap. The brush bristles extend from the bristle base, wherein a height of a first set of brush
5 bristles is designed to be greater than a height of a second set of brush bristles to define a cavity for accepting a shaving cream. The cap is operable to be adjoined to the bristle base to define a shaving handle assembly or a storage case assembly. In the shaving handle assembly, the cavity of the brush bristles is exposed to a user of the shaving brush, and the bristle base and the cap serve
10 as a handle. In the storage case assembly, the brush bristles are inserted through an opening of the cap, and the bristle base and the cap serve as a storage case.